NEWS RELEASE: U.S. Department of Education Increases Maximum Fine to $55,907 Per Violation

January 15, 2018

The U.S. Department of Education released a pre-publication version of final regulations that will be published in the January 16, 2018 Federal Register (<https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2018/01/16/2018-00614/adjustment-of-civil-monetary-penalties-for-inflation>). The regulations concern the inflation-adjusted amount of Civil Monetary Penalties (CMP) that can be imposed for violations of the Clery Act and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act (DFSCA).

As discussed in the press release NACCOP distributed in May of 2017, which is accessible here, the maximum CMP must be adjusted each year for inflation, in accordance with the Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act Improvements Act of 2015. Under the 2017 regulations, which were effective for civil penalties imposed on or after August 1, 2016 whose associated violations occurred after November 2, 2015, the maximum CMP that could be imposed was $54,789.

Moving forward, and in accordance with the 2018 regulations, the penalty amounts are being adjusted up based on the multiplier of 1.02041 provided in OMB Memorandum No. M-18-03. The new amount that can be imposed for noncompliance with the Clery Act and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act is $55,907 (an increase of $1,118).

The adjusted CMPs established by these regulations are applicable only to civil penalties assessed after January 15, 2018, whose associated violations occurred after November 2, 2015. NACCOP members are reminded that any fines imposed for violations of the Clery Act and/or DFSCA will be a function of when the violation occurred and when the fine is assessed, based on the maximum CMP in effect at the time based on that combination of factors.
